Two Men — One Problem

The new U. S. Ambassador to Britain, John G. Winant (right), and Prime Minister Churchill arrive at the Pilgrims Luncheon, held yesterday in London. At the luncheon Mr. Churchill later declared that not only German U-boats but a battle cruiser had now crossed to the Atlantic.

Prime Minister of Britain and President Roosevelt's Ambassador—they are two men with one problem—to save democracy for the world. Photo received by radio.

WAR SERVICES DISTRICT CANVASS ELECT OFFICERS

The War Services Drive which opened last week has resulted in $350, turned in to the local committee to date. The major portion of this was subscribed in the Village country roads being so muddy that canvassers were unable to make their rounds. However roads have dried rapidly with the winds of the last few days and it is expected the district will exceed its objective of $1,000, when the Drive closes April 5th.

A committee formed of three members each from the Board of Trade and local branch of the Legion is in charge of the drive. The Board of Trade is represented by J. Hesketh, T. Tredaway and Wm. Lunt, while H. McIntyre, Corporal Cameron and D. W. Carmichael represent the Legion.

LOCALS

Mr. Wm. Urquhart attended the funeral of the late Mrs. John McDougall in Calgary on Wednesday.

Mr. T. Tredaway was confined to his home the beginning of the week with a bad cold.

Sgt. Observer John Carmichael of the R.C.A.F. at Debert, Man., is on leave at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Len. Pullan and daughter, Nola, of Edmonton, were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Ballam.

Tunis Robinson is a patient in a Calgary hospital, where he underwent an operation last week. His friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Messrs. Robt. and George Whitfield of Alix, Alberta, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Belshaw on Sunday last.

The new 30,000 bushel annex to the Alberta Pacific elevator here was finished today, giving a total capacity of 115,000 bushels in the main elevator and two annexes.

Mrs. L. Overby, who has not been in good health for some time, was admitted to the Holy Cross hospital last Saturday for medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Dawson are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son on March 23rd, in a Calgary hospital. Mrs. Dawson and baby are expected home today.

Douglas Robinson suffered a painful injury recently when he very nearly severed one of his fingers. It was feared he might lose the finger but latest report is that it is healing satisfactorily.

The Legion dance last Friday evening was attended by a large crowd, in spite of muddy roads, and a very enjoyable time is reported. While we have not the exact amount of the proceeds resulting were in aid of the War Services Drive, we understand it was highly satisfactory.

Esteemed Citizen Passes Suddenly

The United Church was filled to overflowing this afternoon, Thursday, when sorrowing friends and neighbors attended funeral services for Mrs. Isabella Will Morrison, who died suddenly at her home on Monday afternoon, March 31. The service was conducted by Rev. H. V. Ellison.

The altar was banked with beautiful floral offerings, a silent testimony to the high esteem in which she was held.

The pallbearers, all old-time friends of the deceased, were: A. Adams, G. Ainscough, I. Benoit, J. Thompson, F. Purvis and R. Hendry.

Interment was in the Crossfield cemetery.

Born in Aberdeenshire, Scotland 61 years ago, she was married there to James Morrison, whom she had known from childhood, and their marriage consummated many years of happy fellowship. Today, had she lived, they would have celebrated the 34th anniversary of their wedding. Coming to Canada in 1907, very soon after their marriage they settled in Calgary where Mr. Morrison was employed with the Cushing Lumber Company. In 1914 they moved to the Crossfield district, taking a farm 10 miles east of town where they have resided ever since.

Mrs. Morrison was a good and kindly neighbor, liked and respected by all who knew her and her sudden passing is a distinct loss to the community. She had the natural Scottish inherent interest and reverence for religion and, when services were held in Onell schoolhouse, was a regular attendant and supporter of the work.

She is survived by her husband; five sisters and two brothers, some of whom live in London, England, in New Zealand and one in the United States.

HOCKEY TEAM HONORED AT BANQUET

Honoring their hockey team, title winners of the Rosebud League, and coach Mr. D. Adams, the High School held a banquet in the Church parlor Friday evening, when members of the team, their parents and the School Board were invited guests. About 50 were seated at the well-laden tables, and were served by members of the student body. Miss Irene Sefson acted as toast-mistress, and the toast list was: "The King", proposed by Hugh Wygle, "The hockey team", by Adeline Carmichael, reply by Jack Fleming, "The School Board", by W. K. Gish, reply by T. M. Mair and T. Tredaway.

Mr. Adams said a few words of appreciation on behalf of the team for the support and co-operation received during the season.

A vote of thanks was moved by D. J. Hall for the splendid meal, with the hope that Crossfield would be able to celebrate every year for a victorious hockey team.

The evening was concluded by singing "There'll Always Be An England" and "O Canada".

LOCALS

L.A.C. Kenneth Cooper and A.C. Bruce Bell, formerly of Galt and Toronto, Ontario, and now stationed in Calgary with the R.C.A.E., were week-end visitors at the P. H. Fleming home. L.A.C. Cooper is a cousin of Mrs. Fleming.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Ellison, accompanied by Mrs. Belshaw, Kenneth and Reg, and Gordon Reeves, were Calgary visitors on Friday, when they attended the opera put on by students of the Technical school, "Way Out West" in which Joe Ellison took part.

Wednesday was moving day in one circle in town. The A. D. Stevens family took possession of the house recently purchased from W. E. Spivey, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hopkins moved into the Stevens' house and Mr. and Mrs. Spivey moved into the house vacated by Mr. Hopkins.

Miss Kathleen Fitzpatrick left for Calgary Sunday, where she is taking a Secretarial course at the Garbutt Business College.

Her work as correspondent for the Calgary Herald has been taken over by Almour Marshall, who will appreciate receiving your co-operation.

Following are the winners of War Savings Certificates for last Friday afternoon on the Victory Wheel being operated at the Chronicle office.

1. Cumps, and Don. Cameron,

Opening of the United War Services appeal for funds has been followed by the announcement of federal authorities that the Red Cross will not be permitted to make another national appeal this year. War Services Minister Gardiner made the announcement in the Commons. Canvassers throughout Alberta are reporting good progress in their drive for funds to assist the Canadian Legion, Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army, I.O.D.E., Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. in their work.

Answer Call of the Blood

From Buenos Aires in the Argentine came these five to join the Royal Canadian Air Force. Although born in the Argentine all five are the sons of British parents who established businesses there. The "blankets" worn by two of the group are actually ponchos, which are used in the Argentine instead of a coat. The man in the centre of the front row is not smoking a pipe but is drinking tea out of a "mate". Those in the picture are: Front row, left to right: J. E. Lester, J. D. H. Kennard, G. A. Cadmus. Back row, left to right: W. H. Lacey, H. R. Piment. They arrived in Montreal today.

I'D TAKE A CHANCE

Much has been said for and against cutting down the wheat acreage this year. Well personally if I was farming today I would put in just as much wheat as I could—together with all the coarse grains I would need for feed and to sell.

The wheat outlet may seem hopeless to some, but remember wheat is a commodity that has many uses, in many lands, and what if we do have a surplus, we are lucky to have it. In 1941 we may have crop failures in some parts of the Empire, what then will happen to the surplus.

It's a mighty nice thing to have a few thousand bushels of wheat on the farm, with a little care it will keep a long time, the price may be low, but it will always keep you in a little ready cash.

BRITISH RADIO LAUGHS AT THE U-BOATS

Huge Exports Got There Safely in 1940

The U-boats failed to catch 1,298,832 English pounds worth of radio exports from Great Britain last year.

India took 20,900 units, or more than double the total for the year before.

The average price of the receiving sets sent to India was, at the exporting end, 6.93 pounds or 90 rupees. High duties and freights have kept British radio sets out of the poorer Indian homes and British manufacturers are now aiming at producing a "People's Set" especially for them.

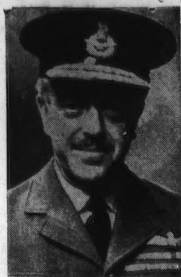

South Africa was the next best market to India, with a total value of 100,000 pounds worth of radio units and components bought and delivered last year.

THE VALUE OF FORAGE CROPS

This is the first of a series of notes on forage crops. The importance of these crops in most districts of the province is becoming more apparent as farmers seek methods of substituting other crops for wheat. Forage crops are primarily feed crops for live stock but, in addition, they possess valuable soil conserving properties. When farmers turn to live stock they will require feed that forage crops provide and one of the most effective methods of conserving soil resources is through the use of forage crops.

Grasses such as brome, timothy and crested wheat make good fodder and add fibre to the soil through their root systems. Crested wheat grass is of particular importance for the latter purpose because of its extensive roots, although its feed value is not equal to brome or timothy.

Legumes like alfalfa, red clover and alsike clover should be included in the rations of all live stock and poultry and for soil building these plants are unsurpassed. Legumes possess the power of adding nitrogen, an essential plant food, to the soil. They are not equal to the grasses in providing fibre in the soil but they will prevent wind and water erosion.

All forage crops are useful in the control of weeds too, and in this way contribute to higher returns. The importance of maintaining soil fertility and providing an adequate supply of nutritious feed for the expanding live stock industry forces farmers to consider forage crops in their production plans.

TURKEY'S CROPS SAVED BY BRITISH SCIENTISTS

Turkey is dressing 200,000 tons of wheat seed with a British preparation which arrests a deadly crop scourge.

There are 15,000,000 acres of wheat in Turkey, as much as there are in Australia, and attacks on it by a fungus have caused serious losses.

British research chemists have given the name Agrosan G to a discovery which, when applied to the seed, kills the fungus before it can develop.

Lieut. J. M. S. Patton

For bravery in connection with the removal of a huge, unexploded time-bomb, which endangered a large munitions plant and hundreds of workers, Capt. Cunningham, of Calgary, Alta., and Lieut. J. M. S. Patton, of Hamilton, Ont., have been awarded, respectively, the George Medal and the George Cross. The citation read: "For conspicuous bravery in carrying out dangerous duties."

Britain have also succeeded in stopping fungicidal attacks on the foliage of Turkey's vines. For long Turkey imported copper sulphate to make Bordeaux mixture, a remedy used by fruit growers everywhere. The results were often disappointing when the lime was not quite fresh and the proportions not exactly right.

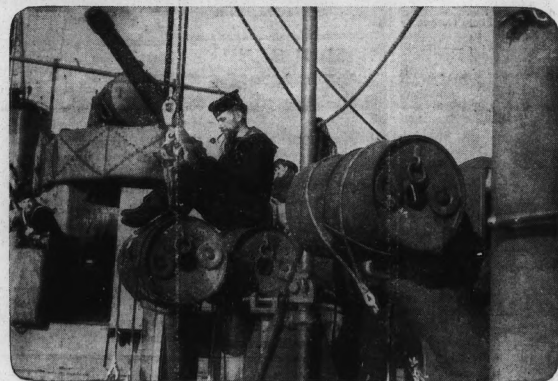

The new spray costs no more than the old and it can be used for a wide range of leaf diseases in fruit bearing trees, and even as seed dressing for cotton, another important Turkish crop.

The old man couldn't find his cabin. "What was your number?" asked the steward

"I can't remember," the old man replied, "but there was a lighthouse outside the window."

Benignly and quite unconcerned, this sailor sits on a group of depth-charges, smoking his pipe and reading a novel. If an enemy is spotted he will, of course, put down his pipe, close his book and help to put some of the depth-charges overboard. But, in the meantime, well—why not be comfortable?

URGES EARLY DELIVERY OF CROP BALANCE

Farmers of this community will be interested in a statement made in the House of Commons by Hon. J. A. MacKinnon, Minister of Trade and Commerce, in announcing the Government's 1941 wheat policy. Mr. MacKinnon said:

"I would like to suggest to farmers to keep storage space at their local shipping points filled as far as possible in order to prevent an undue rush of wheat in the closing weeks of the crop year. I wish to stress this."

"There is, I believe, no doubt that the quota system as it was applied this year by the Canadian Wheat Board has given general satisfaction and in no small degree the successful working out of a quota system has been due to the splendid co-operation which the wheat board has received from wheat producers throughout Canada, from elevator companies and their country agents and from all those who have business interests generally in the prairie provinces."

All farmers should carefully study the Government's 1941 wheat policy with a particular view to making their decision concerning delivery of the balance of their 1940 crop before the 1941 delivery quotas become effective. The price which the Wheat Board will pay on the 1940 crop will have reached 76 cents per bushel by the end of July basis Fort William or Vancouver, which price includes farm storage. On August 1st, if the Government's 1931-42 plans are accepted by Parliament the price reverts to 70 cents per bushel coupled with further restrictions on deliveries. Farmers should not leave delivery off until too late in the season in case elevator space is not available at that time.

On Sunday last His Majesty The King visited the people of the Episcopal Diocese of Prayer and Peace, which is composed of the people of the Diocese of Prayer and Peace. This district boasts of a population of about 9,000 people, and if we say that 1,500 attended church on Sunday last we would have a fair idea of how many of the people there are who daily pray to God for His help for Britain and her Allies in the present conflict. We do not altogether agree with a special day of Prayer, believing, as the rector of St. Andrew's Church said on Sunday quoting the text, "Men Ought Always to Pray". However, His Majesty is in closer touch with what is going on in the present war and he likely knows that a grave crisis is approaching. Prayer to God, united prayer, has saved the Empire on other occasions, and prayer, sincere and united, will bring salvation to Britain and victory to our arms. But there is a limit to the patience of a God who has preserved us all these years. As we noted the size of the congregations on Sunday compared with the number of people in the district, we came to the conclusion that Canadians have a long way to go before they may expect consideration from the Throne of Grace. This district boasts of a population of about 9,000 people, and if we say that 1,500 attended church on Sunday last we would have a fair idea of how making an outside estimate. True, some were listening to the radio. But how many prayed while the service was being broadcast? While evening service was in progress in Alliston dozens of young people were walking the streets, loafing in restaurants or riding the muddy roads. How many of them gave a thought to the gravity of the situation in the world today or heeded the call to prayer. Britain today is a praying nation. The people are close to danger and they have learned how to pray as they did in years gone by. We too must learn to pray. Solomon's prayer at the dedication of the temple, drew from God a statement of conditions of answered prayer as well as a solemn warning as to failure to fulfill the conditions. "If my people go out to battle against their enemies," said the king, "by whatsoever way Thou shalt send them and cry out unto Thee... then hear Thou from Heaven their prayer and their supplication and maintain their cause." To which the Lord replied: "If my people who are called by My Name shall humble themselves, and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven and will heal their land... But if ye turn away and forsake My statutes and My commandments which I have set before you, and shall go and serve other gods, and worship them, then will I pluck them up by the roots out of My land which I have given them." With the people of God lies the opportunity of demonstrating to an unbelieving world the relative power of material resources and that of the Lord God omnipotent. These thoughts lead on to the suggestion that a concerted move be made to acquaint the non church goer and the non prayer with the national necessity of changing our ways. We cannot always go on as we are, emptying our churches and shutting down services in the summer because congregations are scarce. Canada does not need a revival where people are emotionally led to pray. Canadians must be educated to the imperative need for each individual to lead a better life. Is it not possible that the clergy can co-operate with the press and feature this above all matters of money and munition? We suggest that local ministerial associations take up this question and pass it on to the presbyteries and dioceses, to conferences and synods and that the press be approached with a plan to give the religious aspect of this war and of daily life greater attention. Only through the press, we believe, can thousands of people be made to know of the necessity for a change in our ways. They cannot be reached in church because they are not in church. —Alliston Herald.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. Strange

People all across Canada have been making suggestions as to what should be done about the future of the Canadian wheat industry. Some think that a considerable part of our Prairie wheat acreage must be turned to livestock production. Others think that industrial use offers an outset for large quantities of wheat.
Still others consider that wheat can be processed economically into alcohol.

Another large group believes that we must reduce acreage so that only sufficient wheat is produced to meet the limited demand
it existed just before this war.

I do not believe myself that these things offer any real hope.
I feel they would only result in reduced incomes and so in sadness and depression to farmers,
and to all those who depend directly and indirectly upon the wheat industry. It seems to me, however, that there is one thing which can be done, and that is for the Government to remove the high tariffs and other restrictions against international trade and against the importation of foreign goods; for these restrictions have unquestionably been the main reason for the reduced demands for wheat, so for the piling up of unsold surpluses, hence for the lower prices.

If after this War international

Task Well Done

Having completed his task of mechanizing the Canadian Army in Britain, Brig-Gen. G. P. Loggie, Deputy Adjutant and Quarter Master General, has returned to Canada to tackle new military problems. He is here seen with Mrs. Loggie on his arrival at Eau Claire Station on his way to Ottawa.

trade is freed from restrictions,
then foreign demands for Canadian wheat, I for one feel sure,
would soon greatly increase.

Following factors have tended
to raise price:—Chinese purchases of U. S. Flour have amounted to 45,000 barrels—Unseasonably cold weather in the Argentine is delaying ripening of corn—Unoccupied France will receive $1,000,000 worth of flour from the U. S. A.—

Damage has resulted to winter crops in Texas and Kansas from wind and freezing.

Following factors have tended
to lower price:—Both the U. K.
and Eire have prohibited feeding
of wheat in any form to animals—
Further heavy rains have fallen in Argentina recently—U. S. winter wheat prospects continue generally favorable—Harvesting is well advanced in India with a good outturn expected—Soil conditions are mostly favorable for seeding
in Australia.

Look at the label on your paper. It tells when your subscription is paid up to.

HULLESS OATS

There is a growing interest in Hulless Oats as feed for young pigs. The rapid expansion of the swine industry and the adoption of improved methods of feeding
and management have been responsible for focused attention
upon the use of this grain as feed.
Hulless Oats, being devoid of hulls,
make excellent feed for young pigs
and reduces the digestive disorders
which result from feeding oats
which contain hulls.

There are two varieties of hulless oats commonly grown, Laurel and Liberty. Laurel enjoys the greatest popularity as it is generally considered to be the hullless varieties. It is unfortunate that the supplies of Certified seed are very scarce, but Commercial seed
is available in limited quantities.
Many farmers have refrained from growing hulless oats due to its low yield. It should be remembered, however, that the hullless varieties contain 33 percent hull and when this fact is taken into consideration there is not the marked difference in yield that is usually believed. Yields of from 40 to 50 bushels per acre may be expected
under reasonably favorable growing conditions. Considering their high feed value for particular classes of live stock it would, therefore, appear advisable for hog producers to consider growing at least a small acreage for their own requirements.

Hulless oats are usually sown at the rate of about one to one and a half bushels per acre. Good seed should be obtained and well clean-before seeding. The most common admixture is found that of hullless oats, which are difficult to remove.
If only a small quantity of seed is being used hand picking would be practical and necessary in securing a sample fairly free from ad-mixtures.

It is important to remember that hullless oats should not be treated with formaldehyde as the germination may be seriously affected. Seed should be treated by using one of the mercurial dusts.

Recognize Them?

You probably can for they are five Canadian pilots at their station "somewhere in England" but their names of course, can't be given. They look very much at home, however, even to the mascot.
When this photo was snapped, they were apparently quite amused at the antics of one of their companions in the air.
